

Cookies Policy

This website uses cookies to ensure its performance and improve Happen Digital users' experience. Cookies are a data file that is lodged in the computer equipment's hard disk or the electronic communications device of the user when he surfs a specific website, allowing the exchange of information between said website and the user's browser. This website uses its own and third party cookies in order to offer a better browsing experience and to show advertisements according to the Client's interests and to obtain statistics of users and visitors.

- We use cookies to identify your browser or device, obtain more information about your interests and provide characteristics and essential services with additional purposes such as:
- Recognizing when you log into our site to use our services.
- Make a follow up on your specific preferences. This allows us to respect your preferences.
- Follow up on the articles you saved in your shopping cart.
- Learn your browsing preferences.
- Prevent fraud.
- Improve security.

Happen Digital's cookies allow you to use some essential functions, if you reject or block our cookies you will still be able to browse through the website, but you won't be able to proceed to make payments or download our products. You will be able to eliminate cookies implanted in your hard drive whenever you wish to.

Third authorized parties may also establish cookies when they interact with Happen Digital's services. Third parties include search engines, service Suppliers of measurements and analysis, social networks, publicity companies. Third parties use cookies in the process of content delivery, including relevant announcements for their interests, in order to measure the efficacy of their adverts and to present services on behalf of Happen Digital.

Regarding its end, cookies allow to control traffic and data communications and analysis, allowing Happen Digital to monitor the website's functioning. Also, they allow to make an analysis and follow up of user behavior within the website through the IP address in order to improve their experience.

In case of not wishing to install cookies in his equipment, the Client may adapt his browser so that it notifies before any cookie download. This may happen by configuring the browser so that it rejects all cookies or only those of third parties.

In addition, he may eliminate any of the cookies he finds established in his equipment but they must be configured separately in each browser and equipment he uses.